© 2018 Sony Interactive Entertainment America Inc. A man accused of sexual assault has allegedly used his dying father's cellphone to share a sexual message with a woman as the stroke he suffered "deprived him from his ability to speak." Daniel Boyd, 45, was arrested on suspicion of sex assault after police were called to his home in Hamilton, Ontario after a woman said she had been sexually assaulted by him. In a complaint filed with Hamilton Police, the woman claimed her ex-boyfriend was with Boyd on one night in March when he allegedly took her to a motel, where he "unzipped his pants" before forcing her to perform oral sex on him. She claims she was forced to return to his home later on in the night, where he allegedly raped her again. When police arrived at the property, the woman's ex-boyfriend said he'd had a run-in with Boyd and asked for him to be arrested. Boyd's father, Ron, was found dead by a responding officer at his home in Hamilton. The police officer who found Boyd at his father's home initially thought he was a young woman, but he turned out to be an adult man. "The officer was able to determine Mr Boyd was well over the age of consent," Insp. Brendan Taylor said in a news conference on Tuesday afternoon. "The reason he was mistaken for a young woman was because Mr Boyd was wearing a long black wig, sunglasses and had a miniskirt on. "We don't believe that he had any knowledge of the offence that was occurring." Boyd did have a criminal record, however, having been convicted of possession of crack cocaine in 2008. Police officers found Boyd at his father's home in Hamilton. (Supplied) Ron Boyd, who was originally from Hamilton, died last week, but his cellphone was on when it was discovered by police. The man had a "serious neurological condition" and didn't have the use of speech, Mr Taylor said. "The reason he was not able to speak was because his ability to speak was being temporarily blocked by a serious stroke, that he suffered. "He used his eyes to communicate with those around him," he said. Boyd is charged with several criminal offences including sexual assault and forcible confinement. bff6bb2d33

If you have any questions or comments, feel free to post them below!

1. Technical Field The present invention relates to a light sensor for measuring the intensity of light, a lighting device, a projector, and an electronic apparatus.
2. Related Art In the related art, a known light sensor which detects the intensity of light has a configuration in which a light receiving portion having a photoelectric conversion element such as a photodiode and a capacitor for accumulating charge

generated by the light receiving portion are provided for each color light component (red light, green light, and blue light) of light incident on the light receiving portion. The light sensor of this type accumulates charges generated in the light receiving portions and outputs a detection signal corresponding to the amount of accumulated charges. Thus, the light intensity of the incident light is measured using the detection signal output from the light sensor. The light intensity of the incident light is measured by the light sensor according to this type of configuration. However, in the light sensor, a current flows when the light sensor operates, so that fluctuation of power supply voltage to the light sensor in the configuration may cause an error of measurement. In addition, in the light sensor of the related art, when output values of the detection signals are determined after all the accumulated charges are saturated, it is not possible to determine the output values of the detection signals according to a smaller amount of the accumulated charges than an amount of the saturated charges.
