A few days ago we got word that Stephen Amell had some thoughts on what the Arrowverse has in store for us in 2016. So, we found out what he has planned for us. When asked if Arrow is going to see an episode where Oliver goes to trial for the murder of Malcolm Merlyn. Amell responded to the question by saying, "That's a really good question, I just answered it. [Laughs] It's funny, I was going to do something about that this year but we didn't have an episode for them this year, but maybe next year I will address it. I have some thoughts. That would be interesting, I've got some ideas!" I agree with him on that...I love the idea of it. Of course, it will be addressed but at the same time, I don't think we will have an episode or scene with Oliver/Felicity doing anything like that. Maybe Oliver will be doing a small something and the Justice League will be there...maybe there will be the conclusion of Laurel's book (I'm looking forward to that). I'm really excited to see what Amell thinks about that and what he has planned for us in the next year.

A comparative study of 2-aryl-3-arylazabicycles and their [3.1.1]-adamantane analogues. The present work deals with the synthesis of a series of 2-aryl-3-arylazabicycles via initial condensation of 2-aminophenylacetonitrile with a series of 2-arylquinolin-3(2H)-ones. In certain cases, an amino-substituted 2-aryl-3-arylazabicyclo[2.1.0]hexane was obtained. Subsequent base-mediated cyclization of these pyridazines led to the generation of a variety of 2-phenyl-3-phenylazabicyclic systems, some of which were found to be [3.1.1]-adamantane analogues. Further N-O-condensation generated the first examples of N-acyl-indolizines. The present invention relates to a fundus camera of the type having an illuminated portion of the fundus to be photographed and a television camera coupled thereto. An ophthalmologic fundus
